ADJUTANT GENERAL'S REPORT.

STATE OF WEST VIRGINIA,
ADJUTANT GENRAL'S OFFICE,
WHEELING, JANUARY 18th, 1864.

To His Excellency ARTHUR I. BOREMAN,
Governor of West Virginia:

SIR—Agreeably to your request, and in pursuance of the laws of this State, I have the honor to submit herewith, a report of the proceedings in my office, up to the 1st of January, 1864.

Owing to the rather novel and embarrassing circumstances under which we are situated, I was at a loss to know where to begin, but as the Adjutant General of the State of Virginia made no report during the last year, nor at the expiration of his term of office, and as all the papers records, &c., of the Adjutant General's office of the State of Virginia, under the reorganized and restored government, were by an act of the General Assembly of that State, transferred to this, as also the troops furnished and in the United States service from the State of Virginia, I have thought it expedient to report the organization of all troops furnished since the reorganization of the State government of Virginia, June 11th, 1861, as will be seen by the report hereto annexed.

I should have liked very much to have given a complete list, or complete rolls of all the troops mustered into the United States service from this State, but owing to the great neglect of mustering officers to return to this office copies of the muster-in rolls, and of the recruiting officers to return their enlistment papers, especially of the first regiments organized, the records of the office are very incomplete and inaccurate and to give what the records of the office show, only would, I fear, be productive of more harm than good: indeed so incomplete are the records, that my report of the number of troops furnished by the State is taken from a statement from the Adjutant General's office U. S. A., which I think is a very correct estimate.

It is indeed a matter of congratulation to the people of this State, when it will be seen by the statement annexed, that up to the last call of the President for 300,000 men, the State is in excess over all former calls, 5,028 men. The enrollment for draft under the act of Congress is not yet entirely completed, but so far as it has progressed, it is evident that there will be about 40,000 men between the ages of twenty and forty-five enrolled in this State. The enrollment is of course in the counties over which we have control or at least where civil authority is organized. Out of the number enrolled it would be reasonable to deduct a very large percentage, for those who will be exempted, because of disability, thus it will be seen that considerably more than one third of the population liable to military duty have been furnished the United States service by voluntary enlistments.

The people of this State have responded most nobly to every demand of the Government for troops, and the record just alluded to in this respect places our infant state, in not an unenviable position among her sister states; especially when we consider the diffiiculties under which she has labored; first, "a bone of contention," between the two great contending parties, each claiming her, our borders constantly overrun by marauding bands of guerrillas, and not unfrequently held by formidable armies of the enemy, and indeed, our more interior counties subject to devastation and destruction by rebel raids.

I speak of the troops furnished by the State of Virginia, as the troops of this State because they were all furnished from the counties within the boundary of the State of West Virginia.

I intended adding to this report a history of each regiment since they were organized and sent to the field, and have addressed letters to the different commanding officers asking for such reports, but not knowing that I would be required at this time to report, the time has been so short that but few have been received—anything said here however, could not add to the fame and honor of our brave men, as West Virginia soldiers, have now a reputation, for bravery and gallantry unsurpassed by the soldiers from any state; they endure the hardships and privations of war without murmur or complaint, and when we consider the many good and brave men who have gone from pleasant homes, to fields of death; who have fallen in battle, died of wounds and disease, and endured almost incredible hardships without complaint, all for the sake of their country, it would be difficult indeed to say anything that would speak the praise due them; their own deeds of valor on the fields of battle is their best eulogy, and the good name they have won there will ever be cherished and remembered by the loyal people of the State.

Reports from the different regiments and organizations show that we need nearly 5,000 men to fill them to the maximum number; it is very desirable too, that they should be filled, as I think that number of men filling up old organizations would be much better and more efficient than new organizations. Details have been made from the different organizations to recruit, some of which I believe are meeting with very good success, and I have no doubt as the time for the payment of additional bounties has been extended, the thinned ranks of some of the regiments may be filled; and our soldiers who have already been in the service two years, true to the patriotism which has ever characterized them, are re-enlisting as veterans and seem determined to see the end of the rebellion in the army.

I cannot pass without notice, Aids to your Excellency, Colonels Jacob Hornbrook and William Alexander; they have certainly placed the State under many obligations to them for their kind attention to the wants of our sick and wounded soldiers in the hospitals, and to our soldiers in the field, visiting them when they were paid and with the utmost fidelity and promptness carry their money home to their families and friends; in this respect especially have they rendered great service and whilst the State owes them a debt of gratitude, I am very well assured they will not be forgotten by the soldiers.

The system adopted immediately after the organization of the State, for the protection of the border counties against guerrillas, by organizing Independent Companies in each, has proven quite a success. There are organized companies in the following counties, viz: Wayne, Putnam, Roane, Jackson, Wirt, Gilmer, Calhoun, Doddridge, Upshur, Barbour, Tucker, Marion and Preston, and two companies of volunteer militia in Pendleton County; these companies number from 25 to 50 men each, and are composed of men who are thoroughly acquainted with the country in which they operate; these have done a great deal of hard service and given great protection to the loyal citizens and their property, and there is now greater security in those counties than has been since the breaking out of the rebellion.

The militia of the State is perhaps as well organized as could be expected under our late militia laws, but can never be very effective until there is a more complete system adopted, but which perhaps cannot at present be done. Under our late laws there has been no inducement to officers to cause them to obtain a knowledge of military tactics and regulations; and in order to remedy this it will be necessary to adopt some practical mode for the drill and instruction of officers. I think if the commissioned officers of each brigade were required to rendezvous for a month in each year at some central point within the boundary of the brigade for the purpose of drill and instruction, by the commanding officer of the brigade or such other person as might be designated, that our militia might be rendered much more effective. A reasonable appropriation should be made for the payment of these officers for the time they would thus be required to be on duty, so that all officers would feel some pride in making themselves efficient; in this way we would have a much better class of officers than heretofore. I am sorry to say that in most of our counties the musters and drills of the militia have been a burlesque on military organizations, simply because the officers knew little, or no more than the men; it is not expected of course that our militia will appear at once as regular soldiers, but by proper attention of the officers to the drill, and their duties as officers, we can with little expense in a short time render the militia very effective, but, as our State is in its infancy it will not be expected that every thing can be accomplished at once. During the past season when we were threatened with invasion by the enemy, the militia have responded nobly to every call made upon them, and have, no doubt, by their promptness, prevented much disaster and destruction that might have been visited upon us by these rebel miscreants. It is only a matter of wonder that under the very adverse circumstances which they have been called upon to do duty, that they did so nobly. With nothing necessary for a soldier save his gun and ammunition, some of the militia have been for weeks from their homes and places of business and have endured the hardships of a soldier's life, very creditably indeed.

We have at present arms enough in the state for any ordinary emergency, but a large portion of them are of a very inferior make.

The contingent expenses of my office to the 1st of January, 1864, amount to one hundred and eighteen dollars and fifty cents, ($118,50.)

When next required, I hope to be able to make a more full and complete report, and in the meantime will endeavor to have complete descriptive lists of every company and regiment in the United States service from this State, together with all the casualties, which will form a very interesting record for future reference.

I have the honor to be,

Very respectfully,

Your obedient servant,

F. P. PEIRPOINT, Adjutant General.

This regiment has never been filled, and has at present but eight companies reported; there was some difficulty in regard to company "G," of the 11th regiment, claimed by both regiments, as a portion of the men had been mustered into the 13th regiment, but an order from the War Department settled the status of the company, and it was assigned to the 11th regiment. A letter from the Colonel informs me that the two companies necessary to fill up the regiment, are rapidly approaching completion, and I have no doubt, under the favorable opportunities at present for recruiting, that the regiment will soon be filled.

Strength reported, June 30, 1863, 676

The companies of this regiment have never been serving together as a body and it is very difficult to give an accurate report of it. There are two or three companies claimed by the first, second and third Cavalry Regiments, and it has been very difficult to ascertain where they do belong. I append hereto copies of orders published in regard to the companies, and I hope soon to be able to have the matter permanently settled; it has beeen referred to the General commanding the department, in which they are serving.

HEAD QUARTERS DEP'T OF WEST VA.,
Wheeling, February 4, 1862.

[Special Orders, No. 28.]

1. In accordance with Sspecial Order No. 17, from the Headquarters of the Army, the following transfer and assignment of the cavalry companies serving in this department, are made, viz: Captain George W. Gilmore's company from the first to the 2nd regiment Va. cavalry, and Lieut. Young's company, unattached, to the same regiment.

2. The remaining companies of Va. cavalry will constitute a battallion to be commanded by a Major, who will be appointed by the Governor of the State.

By command of General Rosecrans,
(Signed,) GEO. L. HARTSUFF, Ass't Adj't Gen'l.

HEAD QUARTERS OF THE ARMY,

In the foregoing pages, I have endeavored to make as accurate report and roster of the officers in our regiments as possible, but it has been hastily made and whilst performing the regular duties of my office, it may contain some errors, as it sometimes happens after officers have been commissioned they have been assigned to companies different from the ones intended when the commission issued.

Hoping that in my next, I may be able to make a more satisfactory report and to record the musters-out of the service, of all our brave soldiers after having assisted in restoring the supremacy of this Government.

I have the honor to be,
Very respectfully,
Your obedient servant,

F. P. PEIRPOINT, Adjutant General.
